

Calistoga Transit Study

PROJECT FACT SHEET

Purpose

Napa County Transportation and Planning Agency (NCTPA) has initiated a study in the City of Calistoga to evaluate existing transit services, identify travel patterns, and assess future needs. The study will assess the local demographics profile, evaluate the performance of existing transit services, identify community mobility needs, and make recommendations for the transit network, including the Calistoga HandyVan and Napa VINE Routes 10, 11, and 29.

Public Involvement

An essential part in determining transit service needs will be public involvement, including input from stakeholders, bus drivers, and the community, to help identify existing service needs and future needs. The outreach effort will gather opinions and concerns regarding the role of transit in the community, perceptions of the service, improvement priorities, and any other transportation-related issues specific to Calistoga.

Intended Outcome

The input obtained from this outreach effort will be used in conjunction with the existing service evaluation to help draft a future service plan. A community workshop will be held in order to present these findings and allow the public to provide input on the recommendations. The study team will then incorporate these comments into the Draft Calistoga Service Plan and develop an accompanying implementation plan.
